Defense Committee Plans Blackouts

Group Now Studying Precautions For Schools

Andover's defense committee, last Thursday evening, met in its town hall offices to review progress made and formulate future plans, notably in the fields of blackouts and other air-raid precautions, and of special protection for school children.

School Committeeman William A. Doherty spoke of the vital importance to every householder in town—the procedure to be followed by children in the public schools in the event of a bombing raid. Speaking for Acting Supt. Eugene V. Lovely and Committeeman John M. Erving, the other members of his investigating committee, he told the meeting that it had in no way formulated a definite course of action to be strictly followed in an emergency, since such action could only be taken by the school committee itself after hearing the special commission's report. That re-

Joins Army Air Corps

Scott Van Schoick Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Walker of 283 South Main street, expects to leave shortly for Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., where he will begin his training for a commission in the army air corps. He is a graduate of Phillips Academy with the class of 1938, and has been following a pre-medical course at Harvard. Three of his classmates there are entering training with him.

Mock Air Raid By Wardens Tonight

Everything But Bombs In Full - Scale Rehearsal

"Incendiaries fall on house. Major fire. H. E. (high explosive bomb) on same street breaks water main. Crowd has gathered, shouts encouragement and suggestions to people trapped on fourth floor of building on fire. You cannot make yourself heard to give proper directions to trapped people who are endangering themselves by wrong actions. This incident has occurred in an area where cars have been hurriedly and badly parked, so that street is impassable for service equipment. You cannot handle crowd or traffic yourself."

Doesn't sound like a "phoney war," does it? The above is just a sample of the thoroughness with which more than a hundred local air raid wardens are attacking the problem of making Andover safe against enemy bombers. Every possible contingency is looked out for—the disaster itself, the inescapable human element, the accidental circumstances which, by some macabre chance, fall together to augment the gravity of the situation.

The case outlined above is one of a dozen or more mapped out by the A. R. P. directors, drawn, as near as possible, from actual wartime occurrences. Several such cases will be used tonight, when the war-

Duke Ellington At Guard Dance

Just who's following who around isn't quite evident as the Townsman goes to press this week. Percy Grainger, top-flight composer and virtuoso, is to give a concert this evening at George Washington hall. Duke Ellington, colored swing-and-sweet band leader of vast renown, is to play on February 20 for a dance sponsored by local state guardsmen. It's strange enough that two such opposite musicians should be linked through the medium of a small New England town; what's even stranger is that they were well-connected before. Grainger, head of the music department at New York University, has accepted Ellington's musical genius quite seriously, and has hailed him as one of the most influential factors in the current trend of modern music.

All of which seems to prove that Duke Ellington is no ordinary band leader. And that Company D of the

Dahl Will Exhibit Requested Cartoons

A few months ago, Francis Dahl, celebrated Boston Herald cartoonist, lectured and drew for a large and enthralled audience of Parent-Teacher members in the Memorial Auditorium. So much interest was shown in the man and his work, in fact, that the Addison Gallery is planning to hold a special exhibition of Dahl cartoons beginning February 20.

Most Andover people who read Dahl's pertinent picture commentaries on current news topics probably remember some particular cartoon they have enjoyed most

Andover Association Elects Officers Tuesday

The ministers of the Andover Association of Congregational and Christian churches, representing parishes in Andover, Greater Lawrence and Greater Lowell, will hold their annual election of officers at their regular meeting in the West church next Tuesday morning. A devotional service beginning at 10 o'clock will be led by Rev. Frederick B. Noss, rector of South church, and will be followed by a business meeting and the election itself.

Luncheon will be served at noon by members of the church's Women's Union, headed by Mrs. Carl Stevens. The principal speaker at the exercises will be Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Timberlake, president of the Massachusetts Congregational conference and missionary society.

Tire Rationing Will Be Stricter

Chairman J. Everett Collins and members Henry G. Tyer and Foster C. Barnard of Andover's tire rationing board have, during the past three weeks, issued certificates for the purchase of the following tires and tubes:

Lotta M. Johnson, R. N., Board of Health, one 616 tire and one 616 tube; Oscar Bleicher, M.D., Clark road, one 616 tire and one 616 tube; Arthur J. Pomerleau, 2 George street, rural mail carrier, one 616 tire, one 616 tube; Roger H. Lewis, Laurel lane, for farm tractor, two 750x36, two 500x15 tires, and four matching tubes.

The board has received instructions from state headquarters to ration only four-ply tires for passenger cars, six or eight-ply tires being considered unnecessary for this type of vehicle.

About 13 tire agents met in the town house last night with the board members, and were informed by Selectman Collins that rationing must be even stricter than it has been heretofore. The eligibility laws, he said, must be observed strictly to the letter, since "we're trying to win a war, and in this, the one thing primarily necessary is rubber." Obsolete tires may be purchased after application, but without being considered in the strict priority rating attached to more modern types.

Henry G. Tyer pointed out that new cars will very likely be rationed in the near future, though not by local boards. Even retreaded tires, he said, may have to be rationed. Reclaimed rubber is nearly worthless for the manufacture of tires, as was pointed out by Member Foster C. Barnard, as tires so made wear out after very little mileage has been registered.

RAID ALARM

New air raid signals for Andover have just been announced by Chief Warden Leonard F. James, to take effect immediately.

They are:

ALARM: Short blasts on fire whistle and other whistles in town, to be continued for two minutes or more.

ALL CLEAR: Long blasts on all whistles, for two minutes or more.

It is hoped that by the end of the week, copies of the official air raid rules and printed cards announcing the official alarm system will have been distributed to all local householders.

Defense Committee

port, he said, is now in preparation, and a partial survey has been made of shelter facilities for school children. Most probably, the advent of enemy bombers will send the children to the basements of their own buildings, which are, generally speaking, large enough to accommodate them.

In all probability, there will be no blackout arrangements for the school buildings, since they are primarily used in the daytime. Several groups, including the adult education classes, use the school buildings during the evening, but special arrangements will be made for them.

The commission is expected to make its final recommendation to the school committee at its next regular meeting on February 3, he said, and it is expected that the committee will take suitable action at that time, action which will be in accordance, as previously announced, with the requirements laid down by the state department of education.

What is believed to be the first local construction of blackout facilities was, meanwhile, going on in the local police station.

Workmen completed, this week, the construction of plywood screens to be placed over all transoms and windows in the police station, courtroom and cell-block. The screens are hung on hinges beside the windows, and can be swung on a moment's notice.

No corresponding blackout is planned, for the present at least, for the local fire station. The greater part of the building is not used after dusk, and all conceivable duties of the fire department taking place after that time can be performed with a minimum of light. If the situation becomes a great deal more serious than it appears now, the chief's office on the second floor may be blacked out, but no definite plans for such action have as yet been made.

BEGIN WARDEN TRAINING

Plans for the blacking out of private homes and businesses, meanwhile are well under way. The course given to air raid warden instructors during the past six weeks, was completed last Wednesday evening. The instructors are expected to begin shortly the training of wardens for their own districts, such training to take place by precincts in places to be decided upon later. Household holders are expected to decide for themselves which room they shall use in a blackout, and to take proper measures to ensure that no light issues from that room. Businesses ordinarily functioning at night will continue to do so, providing they take proper blackout precautions, a matter left strictly to their own initiative.

The corps of wardens, however, will expect to know just what blackout arrangements have been made in every building in town. The district wardens operating within each precinct will interview every householder and building superintendent for information to be filed away for use in emergency. In each house, they will expect to know the number of adults and children in each family residing there, how many automobiles and beach wagons are kept there. They will ascertain the exact location of the blackout and refuge rooms in each dwelling, the location of their exits, their means of protection from shattering glass and fragmentation. They will check thoroughly on fire equipment, discover whether attics and cellars are cleared of inflammables, and whether various forms of fire equipment are easily accessible. They will want to know whether a household has received instruction of any sort on blackouts, whether any of its members is serving with a civilian defense organization, or has any special skill that could be used on civilian defense. While the wardens will have no legal power to force the householders to give such information, it is expected that there will be no difficulty in securing all the required data.

LOCAL FACTORIES REPORT

Present at Thursday's meeting to report on the defense activities now going on in local defense plants were Wallace E. Brimer, treasurer of the Tyer Rubber Company, and Jesse Bottomley, agent for the Shawsheen plant of the American Woolen company.

Mr. Brimer outlined the progress made by the company in preparation for air raids or other war emergencies. He said that an auxiliary fire brigade has been organized and that two of its members are now active with the auxiliary fire department training under Chief C. Edward Buchan. Special air raid wardens are also attending classes, he said, and an auxiliary police force is being organized. The shop's own mechanical crew is expected to act as a rescue squad.

The corps of watchmen at the plants, he indicated, has been doubled since the outbreak of the war. Issuing of passes to all factory and office employees began before the war, and fingerprinting of all Tyer workers is expected to be completed within a short time.

The problem of blackouts is receiving careful attention from company officials. Only a few rooms operate at night in the plant, and some of these could be shut down in the event of an air raid. A special trial blackout was held throughout the factory last Saturday night, largely for the purpose of trying out a "dark circuit," not on the main switch. Because of this dark circuit, it seems that only a few windows near staircases and in certain departments will have to be blacked out to take care of blackouts of short duration. It is very possible that the whole plant will shut down in a bombing raid.

A large percentage of the Tyer company's footwear and sundry production is now devoted exclusively to defense needs. The company plans to manufacture as wide a variety of war materials as possible. So long as rubber is available and government and essential civilian needs for rubber products continue to make their present imperative demands on the company's resources, crude and reclaimed rubber will continue to be the basic raw materials.

Mr. Bottomley said that plans are now in the making for complete blackouts in the Shawsheen mill whenever they shall be necessary, and that full precautions have been taken to protect the mill's equipment and property.

ALL OUT EFFORT

Defense Bonds At Dantos'

A rather novel plan for the sale of defense bonds has been put in operation at the Andover Spa, managed by George and Peter Dantos, during the past two weeks. Nineteen men are enrolled in a Defense Bond Club there, each contributing one dollar a week. Drawings take place every Friday, the winner receiving a $25 denomination bond. Winning names are withdrawn, each week, from the list of eligible recipients, so that at the end of nineteen weeks, each of the members will have received a bond.

Harvey Seagle of Elm Court had the distinction of getting the first bond, and George Platt of Bancroft road took the honors last Friday. It looks like an idea that should be widely adopted by other local merchants.

Free Church Members

A list of Free Church members now serving with the armed forces, compiled at its annual meeting last week, includes two sets of three brothers each. Representatives of the Thomson family in the service are David, Edward and James. Mr. and Mrs. George Skea have sent four boys to the colors, Charles, James, William and John. All except John Skea, who makes his home in Maine, are Free church members.

Punchard Notes

Sally O'Riordan

The members of the various committees for a successful production of the Senior class play, "Incognito," by N. Richard Nusbaum, have been chosen, as follows:

Ticket committee: Lois Henderson, Burton Batcheller, John Erving, Roger Zeigler, Catherine Sheedy, Leo Lynch, Grace Stewart, Kathleen Valentine, Jane West, Mary Louise Irwin, and Doris Parsons.

Productions committee: William Gordon, chairman.

Scenery: Richard Quinn, Sam Lowry, and Clarence May.

Stage effects: M. Krikorian, C. Tateosian, and L. Lynch.

Lights: Stephan Fisher.

Art: B. Yeaton.

Make-up: Mary Louise Irwin.

Costume committee: Ann Scanlon, Jane Milliken, Marjorie Howes, Robert McDonald, Jeannette Batcheller, Evelyn Anderson, and George Kelly.

The assistant director is Barbara Greenwood.

Local People Assist In War Fund Drive

About 20 local people are included in the subscription committee for the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign now being waged all through the metropolitan area. A goal of $7,600,000 has been set for the drive, as compared with the 1941 quota of $4,883,000. The united campaign for the current year includes the Red Cross, the United Service Organizations and the Soldiers and Sailors committee.

At various times, people in Andover and North Andover receive the benefits, directly or indirectly, of Boston hospitals and other participating agencies. Local servicemen on leave need places of recreation, and even more, the knowledge of tangible home support.

The subscription committee for Andover is headed by Ernest S. Young of 70 Elm street. Other workers are Mrs. Harold Abbott, Mrs. Wallace E. Brimer, William H. Brown, C. A. Cochran, Mrs. Southworth Cowden, Mrs. Winsor Gale, E. P. Hall, Mrs. N. P. Hallowell, Jr., Mrs. E. F. Leland, Jr., Mrs. W. T. Rich, Jr., Mrs. George F. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sides, Gardner Sutton, Mrs. Arthur Sweeney, Miss Emily Thompson, Frederick E. Watt, R. I. W. Westgate, and Robert Woolsey.

The committee for North Andover is headed by Miss Mary Rockwell of Osgood street, and includes Mrs. Horace Stevens and Mrs. Robert Saltonstall.

Educational Life

Summer Sessions At Phillips

Headmaster Claude M. Fuess of Phillips Academy recently announced that the first summer school in its 163-year history will be begun there this summer. It is designed primarily to train school-boys in subjects important in preparation for service in the armed forces, will last for eight weeks, and will be directed by Wilbur J. Bender of the faculty.

Students from other schools who can fulfill the educational requirements are expected to attend, along with the school's resident students. A tuition charge of $250 is designed to cover expenses.

Twelve hours of classwork a week, in any one of several courses to be offered, will be required of each student. Particular emphasis will be placed on all phases of mathematics and science, with languages receiving a proportionate amount of attention. Other courses will be offered in such military subjects as communications, map-reading, navigation, rifle-shooting, first aid, auto mechanics. Physical fitness programs will be emphasized.

No other school in the East has planned such a course, and it is wholly without precedent in the history of the school. Despite the fact that many details are not as yet worked out, it is hoped that the summer sessions can offer a substantial contribution to the national welfare in these critical times.

League Presents Study Group On Home Management

The Andover League of Women Voters, last Friday afternoon, sponsored an interesting meeting for discussion of the subject, "Organizing the Household Schedule." All local women are cordially invited to attend the second in this series of meetings, to be held next Friday, February 6. The subject for discussion then will be "Buying and Planning for Meals," and Miss Ruth Emerson, head of foods in the homemaking department of the Essex Country Agricultural School, will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. C. Edward Buchan will be in charge of arrangements, both for this meeting and the final one on February 20, when Miss Anna Smith, home project supervisor of the agricultural school, will address the league on "Efficiency in the Home."

ON SCHOOL PAPERS

Miss Barbara Robjont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Robjont of Elm street, has been elected literary editor of "Time Steps," the school yearbook at House in the Pines, Norton, Mass.

Thomas B. LeSure of Andover, a freshman at Boston University's college of business administration, has been appointed a staff correspondent of the Boston University News, school news weekly.

Miss Mary Loosigan has returned from the Lawrence General Hospital and is recuperating at her home on Lowell street.

Mrs. John Brodhead is slowly improving from a serious illness at her home on High street.

TONIGHT—Percy Grainger Concert At Academy

Much local interest has already been evinced in the concert to be given by the well-known Australian-born musician, Percy Grainger, at 8:15 this evening in George Washington Hall.

Grainger has toured Europe and this country for four decades now, and has won acclaim as one of the world's outstanding pianists. A composer of graceful light classics, he is best known for his familiar "Country Gardens," which is still selling over 27,000 copies a year.

The story behind "Country Gardens" composition is an interesting one. Grainger, during World War I, was playing in a U. S. Army band, which was often called on to take part in Liberty Loan rallies. At nearly every one, people would single out the well-thatched pianist for a solo. "Country Gardens" was nothing more than an improvisation at one of these impromptu concerts, and was designed to suit the popular taste of its listeners. As the band progressed from city to city, Grainger repeated the melody, adding a run here and a break there. Finally he put it on paper and gave it to his publisher. The rest is musical history.

WHERE TO GO WHAT TO DO

SATURDAY—"Gondoliers" For Red Cross Benefit

At the Christ Church parish house, next Saturday night, Gilbert and Sullivan's celebrated opera, "The Gondoliers," will be staged for the benefit of the war relief fund currently being raised by the Red Cross. The performance will be given by the William Lawrence Club of Grace Church, Lawrence, which has won an enviable reputation for the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's works over a period of six years.

Geoffrey Glendenning of High street, a member of the group, takes one of the principal roles as the Duke of Prazi-Toro. Serving on the committee in charge of arrangements are Mrs. M. Phillips Graham, Mrs. George H. Musk, Mrs. Geoffrey Glendenning, and Mrs. Walter Rankin. Miss Constance Swenson is in charge of the ushers, while Clifford Emmons and William Hughes are directing the stage crew. Miss Ruth Saunders heads the refreshment committee.

Members of the Junior Red Cross are now selling tickets in the local schools, and they may also be obtained from Mrs. Walter Rankin.

Persons and agencies co-operating in the production are Fred Jones and the cast, the Adventurers, the Red Cross nursing committee and the Junior Red Cross, Jesse West (makeup), Tracy Music Library (scenery), and Mr. Otto (lights).

FEBRUARY 6—Migration Director At Phillips

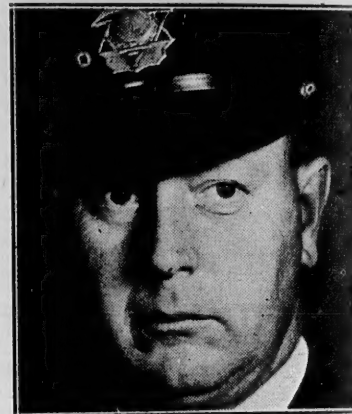

One of the most unusual jobs in an unusual wartime world is that of Patrick Malin, director of the International Migration Service. This organization has been in existence since the last war for the purpose of assisting all people moving from one country to another, and its activities, as its title indicates, are worldwide.

Mr. Malin, who was head of the economic department at Swarthmore college until the advent of war, got his first experience in his present work when he was placed in charge of passport arrangements for the large number of British children sent to this country for the duration. Last Summer, he was sent to Europe by the service committee of the Society of Friends to report on their relief operations in Spain, and later traveled all through Europe for a first-hand view of the war.

Returning to this country in autumn, he was sent to Trinidad and Curacao, off South America, where he worked for our state department in clearing up the difficulties of 85 Spanish refugees whose visas had expired before they reached the mainland. It became his duty, in view of a delicate international situation, to investigate the whole matter of the visas and to see that new ones were prepared.

He comes to Andover next Friday evening, February 6, to deliver a lecture called "Men Without a Country" before the Phillips Academy Society of Inquiry. The lecture will begin at George Washington Hall at 8:15, will be open to the public, and there will be no admission charge.

FEBRUARY 6—Policemen's Ball At Auditorium

SERG. W. RAYMOND HICKEY

Put next Friday down on your reserved list for one of Andover's most familiar entertainments, the seventeenth annual entertainment and dance of the local police relief association. Roland Russell's Ramblers will feature the musical portion of the program, and special vaudeville acts will provide the entertainment.

Motorcycle Officer Carl H. Stevens is in charge of the general committee. Sgt. David Nicoll and Officers William Stewart and George Waldie comprise the entertainment committee. Chief George A. Dane and Sgt. W. Raymond Hickey form the reception committee, and Sgt. Hickey is also head of the ticket committee.

Silly?

Were you as incensed as most of America was at the revelations in the report of Pearl Harbor? Didn't it make you furious inside to read that those in charge in Hawaii didn't "believe an air attack was possible?" Utter stupidity, wasn't it?

Do you suppose those two officers had any qualms about their decision not to take seriously any warnings about air-raids? Andover's residents have been faced with the same question, and it's a difficult one. There are those now who think it's absolutely absurd to make any kind of preparations for air-raids. There are those who are making preparations that do seem foolish and unnecessary. In between the two groups is a large group of people who can't convince themselves either way, and it's safe to say that probably ninety percent of those who have been spending their time studying in the various defense schools are in this middle group. That's where we should all be.

We mustn't go crazy about air raid defense, but on the other hand we mustn't be too complacent. The chances really are probably very slim that Andover will be ever subjected to an air-raid, but as long as there is even a slim chance it would be best to be prepared to some extent. This doesn't mean an outlay of money; it does mean an outlay of time. The person who refuses to become acquainted with the elementary precautions for air-raids might find himself wishing some day that he had spent the few minutes that it takes to learn these things, whereas if the persons who have learned the precautionary measures never have to use them, they'll be very glad and won't mind a bit having spent some time learning something. Maybe it'll turn out to be silly, but it's better to have been silly about precautions than silly about lack of precautions.

Mock Air Raid

dens conduct a full dress rehearsal all through town.

The procedure tonight will be something like this: a warden, stationed somewhere in town, will be handed a copy of an "incident"—casual sounding word for any such occurrence as a bombing. Immediately, he will pick out the salient details in it, jot them down on a specially prepared form together with such other data as the location and exact time of the occurrence, his warden's number, and the different service units already at the scene.

He speeds to the nearest telephone, or to his precinct headquarters, and puts in a call to the report center at Peabody House, Phillips Academy, which is fully staffed 24 hours a day. There an operator receives the call on a similar blank, makes one copy for the files, another for the chief air raid warden.

The warden is seated at the head of a long table, around which are gathered the chiefs of such vital utilities as the police, fire, public works, and water departments and the gas and electric company. Receiving the report, he reads it aloud, and the six representatives, by means of six separate telephone lines, give directions for whatever action lies within their particular province. In the incident heading this story, for instance, immediate action is needed by the fire and water departments, while the police should be on hand to disperse the crowd and to clear traffic. Circumstances may call for the presence of gas and decontamination squads or mobile first aid units, which will be called, if necessary, by the groups which reach the scene of the disaster first.

Dogs Inoculated Saturday

Dr. R. R. Moulthrop, Methuen veterinarian, will be at the Central fire station this Saturday morning from 9 to 12 to inoculate against rabies all dogs not so inoculated within the past twelve months. Cases of rabies, occurring frequently in recent weeks in nearby communities, have made this action imperative, and all dogs not inoculated must be confined by their keepers to their premises, or kept on leash when off them. There will be no charge for Saturday's clinic.

Abbot Academy Notes

The Senior Class will return tonight after a three-day winter sports holiday in Kearsarge, N. H. Their return will be marked by the singing by the class of special "Intervale" songs in the dining-room and a response by the underclassmen who were left behind. The underclassmen, by the way, have had not a dull moment since the Seniors took off Tuesday morning—what with extra reading they have undertaken for their various courses, their walks, corridor parties, and a "Make Up" party Tuesday night in Davis Hall. This took the form of a contest between the various corridors and cottages for the best take-off, with the use of a few very simple properties, of such famous characters as Mickey Mouse, Ferdinand, President Roosevelt, Sonja Henie, the Cheshire Cat, and Mickey Rooney. The hit of the evening was Mary Jane Kurth's take-off of Elissa Landi.

Miss Friskin's piano recital as already announced, will take place in Davis Hall this Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The vesper speaker on Sunday night will be Professor Hans Kohn of Smith College. Friends of the school are cordially invited at 7:30 in Abbot Hall. Dr. Kohn was born in Prague, Czechoslovakia, where he studied at the German University before the first World War, and took his degree of doctor of law. During that war he was taken prisoner as an Australian soldier, and spent almost five years in Asiatic Russia. From 1920 to 1931 he studied and wrote on problems of nationalism and on the political and social development of the Near East. In 1931 he came to the United States, taught for two years at the New School for Social Research in New York, and then became professor of modern European history at Smith College.

Presides At Conference

Presiding at the annual Area "A" child welfare school conference of the American Legion and its affiliated organizations will be Stafford A. Lindsay of Argyle street. The conference is to be held tomorrow and Saturday at the Hotel Statler, Boston, and will be addressed by speakers from all over the country. Mr. Lindsay is chairman of child welfare for the Legion's Area A.

Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster of Phillips Academy, will be one of the speakers at a joint luncheon session of child welfare and habilitation, to be held on Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

BALLARDVALE

Calendar For February

February 2—Community Association meeting.

February 4—Hobby show and pie social sponsored by church service league of Congregational church.

February 5—Midwinter P. T. A. conference at Hotel Kenmore.

February 6—Special founders' day observance of the P. T. A.

February 11—Valentine party by the Women's League for Christian Service of the Methodist church.

February 14—Valentine party for the people of the community, sponsored by the Community Association.

February 15—Memorial service for the late Dr. William Shaw.

February 20—Friendly Guild meeting.

February 20—School vacation of one week begins.

Hobby Show, Pie Social

A very interesting evening is promised everyone attending the hobby show to be held February 4th by the ladies of the Union Congregational Service League. Many interesting hobbies have been entered, including miniature shoes, perfume bottles, pitchers, salt and pepper shakers, metal work, and woodcraft.

Boy Scouts

At the regular meeting of Troop 76 Monday evening, George Brown spoke to the scouts regarding air raid precautions, while John Little of Andover demonstrated first aid.

With much regret the boys heard Samuel Wright announce that he is planning to resign as their leader because his work requires his moving from the Vale. Mr. Wright has been a fine Scoutmaster, and has built the troop up to its present level of efficiency.

Dahl Cartoons

over a long period of years. There is a good possibility that that cartoon, or, better still, Dahl's original drawing for it, may be included in the exhibit if a post card describing it is mailed to the Addison Gallery. The exhibition is now in the process of being arranged, and there is a good chance that certain favorite drawings can be included if the Gallery hears from those who like them.

HAROLD BENNISON

Guest night will be observed by the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club next Monday evening, February 2, at 8 o'clock, in the Shawsheen School hall. The press committee will present Mr. Harold Bennison of the Boston Traveler, who will lecture on "Laughs and Thrills Gathering News."

Mr. Bennison is a practising attorney as well as a professor of journalism, but primarily he is a reporter of news. He will give the other side of the story of "Why newspapers print such stuff," and discuss the press relations with such celebrated occurrences as the Sacco-Vanzetti trial, the Lindbergh kidnapping and the sit-down strikes.

Mr. Roger Bonchard, baritone, accompanied by Mr. Morse Haithwaite, will render a group of songs.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Frank R. MacMackin and Mrs. Percy Nutton, hostess chairmen, and their committee, including Miss Margaret McLay, Mrs. George Mellen, Mrs. Joseph Miller, Mrs. Ray F. Moore, Mrs. Alexander Morrison, Mrs. Joseph Mulvey, Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. Clayton Northey, Mrs. George Norwood, Mrs. Edward O'Connor, Mrs. Frank O'Connor, Mrs. Jeremiah O'Connor, Mrs. Edward O'Donnell, Miss Alice Oliff, Mrs. William Pedlow, Mrs. David Perkins, Mrs. Harold Peters, Mrs. Thomas Peters.

SQUARE AND COMPASS BANQUET

The annual banquet for members and friends of the Andover Square and Compass club is currently being planned by the committee in charge, to take place on Thursday evening, February 5. Supper is to be served at 6:30, followed by a speaking program and entertainment featuring an address on Abraham Lincoln by Rev. Clinton Carvell.

Serving on the committee are Rowland L. Luce, J. Everett Collins, Dana W. Clark, Ralph E. Hadley, Edmond E. Hammond and Samuel D. Berry. Tickets must be obtained from them before Monday, as only a limited number are available.

Andover Historical Society Discusses Old Houses

The first meeting in a series sponsored by the local Historical Society was held Friday evening in the clubhouse on Main street. Mrs. Charles W. Ward sketched the early history of the Nicholas Holt house. Rev. Arthur Taft, the present occupant of the Gray home-stand on Holt's Hill, spoke of the stirring scenes it had witnessed in the days of the Revolutionary War.

The next discussion in the series will take place at the annual open house, to be held on the day preceding Washington's Birthday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 o'clock. At 8:15 that evening, Walter M. Whitehill, curator at the Peabody Museum in Salem, will speak on New England's famed clipper ships, a subject of lively interest to men and women alike.

Mrs. Glen Grant, resident in the ancient Upton Home on Osgood road, will tell the story of that little known locality on the evening of March 20, while William A. Trow, on April 17, will recall the history of Fry Village. He is expected to discuss Andover's very early beginnings, which should not be lost among better known and more recent changes.

Non-members of the society are invited to consider its printed announcement of the meetings as an invitation to become members, in order to swell the ranks of those who wish to preserve Andover's history and traditions.

"Victory Gardens" To Be Discussed

In the interests of civilian defense, the Andover Garden Club is to present a discussion of "Victory Gardens" at its next meeting, to be held at the November clubhouse Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The speaker will be Mrs. Irving Wright, president of the Chestnut Hill Garden Club, who is considered as able a speaker as her subject is timely.

The local club has invited the presidents and executive boards of the garden clubs in North Andover, Lawrence, Haverhill, Reading, Wakefield, Lowell, Boxford, Malden, Billerica and Newburyport to be present at the meeting.

November Club Notes

The Dramatic Department of the November Club will meet at the home of the Misses Bell, 32 Morton street, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Art Department will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. George Sanborn, Rockwell House, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Literature Department will meet with Miss Kate Jenkins, 116 Main street, next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Andover Mothers' Club

The second in a series of beano parties currently being sponsored by the Andover Mothers' Club will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. George Symonds of Summer street. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Herbert Folley, Mrs. Annie Kent, Mrs. Louise Simeone, and Mrs. Harold C. Cates.

A successful party of a similar nature was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Schmottlach of 642 Turnpike, North Andover. The committee in charge included Mrs. Annie Webb, Mrs. Emil Dufresne, Mrs. James J. Feeney, and Mrs. Schmottlach.

Junior High Notes

Miriam Dearborn

The following Andover Junior high students and faculty members attended the youth concert presented last week by the Boston Symphony Orchestra at Symphony Hall, Boston: Miss Frances Hoskins, Miss Florence Gates, Miss Evelyn Banning, Barbara Knowles, Audrey Nowell, Sally McDuffie, James Boyce, Shirley Stevens, Anne Burns, Diane Gould, Shirley Sawyer, Cynthia Pash, Angela Magnano, Dorothy Eccles, and Peggy Howe.

The amount of Defense stamps sold last week in the Junior high was $91.90, making a total to date of $313.25.

The assembly program Wednesday was put on by the members of home room 5, directed by Miss Beatrice L. Stevens. The assembly opened with the salute to the flag, following which a play, 'A Literary Scrooge,' was presented. Those taking part were:

Reader Joan Fleming
Literary Scrooge Donald Dane
First Spirit Dorothy Eccles
Dan Beard Loring Batchelder
Second Spirit Jacqueline Driggs
Characters in the Stranger of Primrose Lane episode: Christina Duke, Dorothy Duff, Theresa Darby, Pauline Erler, David Graham, Kim Dow.

Characters in Courage Over the Andes episode: Robert Creamer, Randlett Emmons and Kim Dow.
Third Spirit Miriam Dearborn
Singers Ruth and Edith Gilman
Cartoonist Joan Gale
Librarian Jean Duguid
Announcer Shirley Gordon

Last Thursday, the following girls and teachers visited the Lawrence General Hospital: Miss Florence Bower, Miss Evelyn Banning, Miss Dorothy Donovan, Barbara Boutwell, Josephine Cleary, Shirley Gordon, Jacqueline Driggs, Barbara Hill, Barbara Knowles, Ellen Pitman, Evelyn Locke, Gladys Sharpe and Margaret Webster.

Miss Knudsen, assistant supervisor, gave a very interesting lecture on the requirements of a nurse, and the training offered in the Lawrence General Hospital. The group was guided through the hospital and the nursing school.

Here are the latest standings in the boys' basketball league:

Team	Won	Lost
Gold	5	0
Greens	3	2
Blues	2	3
Reds	0	5

A model train loaned by David Graham of Division 15 is now on exhibition at the Young People's Library. It is a model of a B and O freight engine, took two years to make, and is capable of pulling eight people.

Everyone in the ninth grade is busy taking a library test on the use of the dictionary, card catalog and some of the important reference books. A lecture is being given by Miss Robinson of the school library, and the tests take place at the Young People's Library.

Girls' shuffleboard and ping-pong tournaments have begun and the first results will be published next week. In the girls' basketball league, all games have been played, the Golds winning without the loss of a game. The Blues were second; Reds, third; and Greens, last.

The players on the winning team were Mary Jane Hodges, Constance Mauceri, Claudia Nicoll, Alice Chick, Crystal Cormey, Jocelyn White, and Dorothy Eccles.

Under the supervision of Room 4, the members of the school are collecting cancelled stamps. These are sent to England, where the dye is extracted. The money obtained is given to the Queen's Hospital, a children's hospital in London.

Superintendent To Stay

Edward I. Erickson of Derry, N. H., found himself caught between two fires this week, very pleasant fires at that. Two weeks ago, Andover's school committee elected him superintendent during the leave of absence given Kenneth L. Sherman, now with the U. S. Navy, at a salary of $3800 per year. Last week, the school committee of New Hampshire's Union district 10, comprising the towns of Derry, Derry Village, Londonderry, Windham, Chester and Auburn, unanimously agreed to refuse to accept his resignation as district superintendent, and to offer him a salary increase instead.

Monday, Mr. Erickson came to a decision, and telephoned the Andover school committee that he will be here to take over the local superintendency as soon as a new school head is appointed for his present jurisdiction. He is expected to assume his new duties shortly. Meanwhile, Eugene V. Lovely, principal of Pynchard High School, is acting superintendent here.

Mrs. Henry Northey of Rocky Hill road left Friday night for Washington, D. C., Norfolk, and Richmond, Va., where she will spend several months with her sons, who are located there.

WEDDINGS

Petrie-Fraser

A pretty ceremony performed at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Free Church united in marriage Miss Joan Isobel Fraser of 86 Poor street, daughter of Hugh Fraser, and the late Mrs. Jessie Fraser, and David Ruxton Petrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Petrie of 6 Chickering court. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Herman C. Johnson, pastor of the church, before a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

Given in marriage by her uncle, James Fraser, the bride wore a gown of ivory duchess satin with a fitted bodice and a full skirt extending into a train. She had a tulle veil caught to a cap of chentilly lace decorated with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white lilacs, budlea and freesia, with a white orchid in the center.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Doris Ritchie, an intimate friend of the bride, who wore a full-skirted gown of fuschia and a head-dress composed of blue and fuschia feathers. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas with a rose in the center.

The six bridesmaids were Mrs. Grace Davis, Mrs. Barbara McKeen, Mrs. Barbara Rookes, and Misses Cynthia Smart, Doris Anderson and Thisbe Grieco. They wore full skirted blue gowns with fitted bodices and three-quarter length sleeves and headdresses of blue feathers. Their colonial bouquets contained violets, iris, sweet peas and budlea, with blue iris in the center.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. James Fraser of 86 Poor street, wore a black taffeta gown with a velvet bodice, and wore a pink orchid as a corsage. The groom's mother wore a blue crepe dress trimmed with silver, and also had an orchid corsage.

The best man was Walter Newton Gordon, a friend of the groom. The ushers were Robert Nicoll, Robert Tate, Norman Fraser, Robert Davis, Alex Ritchie, Jr., and Patrick McCafferty.

After a reception, attended by more than 200 guests, in the church vestry, the couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination.

The bride is a graduate of Punchard High School with the class of 1934. She attended Colby Junior College, graduated from the Chamberlain School in Boston, and has been employed by the R. H. White company there. Mr. Petrie is a graduate of Punchard High School and vice-president of its alumni association. He attended Northeastern University, and is at present employed as advertising manager for the Townsman.

MISS BISHOP ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Bishop of North Main street announce the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor Isabelle, to Oliver George McClellan, son of Mrs. Frances P. McClellan of Orchard street.

Andover Grange Meets

About fifty members of Andover Grange met in Grange Hall Tuesday evening. Following the short business session, Miss Barbara Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Lowell street, entertained with piano selections and baton twirling. She is top sergeant in the majorette section of the Punchard All-Girl Band. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clarence Colmer, Mrs. George Cairns and Lois Rollins.

The dramatic club will serve a baked bean supper in Grange Hall on Saturday evening, February 7. Tickets may be obtained from Arthur Lewis or any member of the club.

Mrs. Lewis Lane is slowly improving at her home on High Plain road following a serious attack of the grippe.

Mrs. Bessie Clemmer of Springfield is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Duguid of Lowell street.

State Guard is doing something equally unusual in bringing him to the State Armory in Lawrence to play for their first annual dance on Friday evening three weeks hence.

Andover enlisted men, numbering about half the company's personnel, are active in the preparations for the dance, which is under the general chairmanship of Corporal Edward E. McCabe. Sergt. Irving J. Whitcomb is in charge of invited guests, including all the commissioned officers of the 23rd and 24th regiments, their commander-in-chief, one Leverett Saltonstall, and the adjutant-general for Massachusetts, Brig. Gen. Edgar Erickson.

Corp. Robert Deyermund is in charge of the dance program, and Corporal Allen M. Flye and Pvt. C. Milton Jackson are handling the refreshment end. Captain Clyde A. White of Andover, commanding officer of Company D, and Lieut. Raymond G. Mowat, also of this town, are honorary members of the committee.

Duke Ellington, of course, occupies a unique place in popular music, and is considered far superior to the Armstrongs and the Calloways with whom his name is often linked. His 17 man outfit, featuring Ivie Anderson and Herb Jeffries as vocalists, placed third last year in a poll conducted by Down Beat, a newspaper devoted to the interests of musicians. In the realm of general music, he was rated under only Glenn Miller and Tommy Dorsey, and in the field of swing, second only to Benny Goodman. Back in 1937, in a poll conducted throughout Europe by the London magazine Melody Maker, he was placed at the head of the list of all international dance orchestras.

That's pretty good going for a band that's been a national favorite for only a matter of 20 years. Company D, in its first social since the organization of its enlisted men's club, bids fair to draw a record crowd for the dance, and the armory's main hall, the largest dance floor in Greater Lawrence, will be especially decorated for the occasion. Tickets at 83 cents each, including tax, may be purchased from any member of the company.

One rather sad military note, however, will be sounded. Because of the armory's important connection with national defense, eighteen men from Company D will have to stand guard there while their fellows make merry on the dance floor. They'll probably make a bee line for the stag line when relieved.
